Holistic Massage Case Study Faith Okpara

Case study 003

Treatment 1

Client Profile

003 is 32 years old who is doing very well academically she already acompleted her master degree in computer IT management. She moved back to her parent house which they share with her two younger brothers during the covid 4 years ago she had challenges when she move back with her parent and distance to work which create a lot of stress for her but most time she work from home. She rate her stress level at work as 7 and 3 at home She is not in a relationship and had no kid, she is processing her first morgage and viewimg houses this added to her stress level. She said she usally has a good sleeping pattern but occasionally she find it diffcult to sleep as her mind is racing thinking about work.

She has a busy life style as she acquiring another master degree

Her diet is poor as she always busy with work and study she doesnt eat vegetable she drinks one litre of water a day, she drinks a lot of herbs and green tea for wellbeing. She like travelling going on holidays which she claim she had massage everytime she is on holiday she doesnt excercise she just started a swimming activities as she developed a back and neck pain as a result of constantly sitting and working on the computer, so a regular masssage will do her good and also she think it will help to improve the pain on her back and neck.

Treatment plan

We have decided the best course of treatment for 003 would be weekly full body massage using mainly effleurage, petrissage and percussion over 5 weeks with the back and neck receiving extra attention.

003 works Monday to Friday and with other evenings activities so we agreed that she would attend on a Tuesday evening at 7pm to end the day, a full body massage will be complete each week to aid all parts of her body to destress, we will focus on her back, neck and shoulder. My aim is to loosen her regularly used muscles and help 003 feel lighter in her body.

For relaxation i will use plenty effleurage movement throughout the treatment to sooth and relax the muscles, and i will use petrissage to ease tension and release toxins around her back and shoulders. This week i will concentrate on pain relief, I will also provide 003 with some home care advise to encourage a better lifestyle.

Room Set up

My room set up remain the same as described at the begining of the case study, still at the corner of my sitting room.

How the client felt before the treatment

003 said she was looking forward to her treatment because she know that massage treatment is a huge benefit to muscles, she said she is happy to let me focus on the area that needed more attention.

How the treatment was conducted

I contucted a full body massage on 003 today with a focus on relieving tension on her back, i applied massage oil and began with long effleurage to warm up the muscles of the back of her left leg, i discovered tightness on her gastronemius and soleus muscles on her lower leg and also found tightness on his biceps femoris muscles on her thigh, i worked on her gastronemius with petrissage pick and squeezed to release any tension and toxins. I then moved to her thigh and used effleurage to warm up her muscles, i then used petrissage movements again on the biceps femoris and i performed percussion in the form of cupping and hacking starting on the gluteus maximus, over the thigh and down the lower leg and back over the thigh again. I then used effleurage on the whole leg to help aid relaxation. I covered the leg and drained her foot with effleurage and thumb zig zags on the sole of her foot. I moved onto the right leg repeating the routine as above.

I moved on to the back i began with effleurage to warm up and relax her back muscles i noticed a bump on 003 right upper back in the area of rhomboids i also found tightness in trapezius and deltoids area, i started using thumb circles from either side of the erector spinae and over the detoids and down onto the infraspinatus fascia increasing the pressure to softening the tightness area, i checked with 003 if the pressure is ok, i used petrissage movement again with pick up and roll and wringing to help break down any toxins and release tension in the muscle. These movements will help improve circulation. I did vibration movement with my finger pads along the erector spinae i also used percussion cupping and hacking included the glutes and i used double handed effleurage included the detoids and around the hip making figure 8 after i placed one hand on her shoulder blade and pulse. Then used finger pad stroking towards her head.

Once the back massage had completed i helped 003 turn over onto her back so i could work on her front legs, i used effleurage on her front leg i included the sole of her feet i used petrissage as wringing to worked on tibialis anterior and soleus, i also used friction on the shinbone to stimulate the nerves and loosen any tight muscle in that area. I then used effleurage to relax the muscle and help eliminate toxins from the area. I moved over to the thigh using effleurage to reheat the thigh muscle and wringing to help stretch the rectus femoris and sartorius muscles. I used percussion in the form of cupping and hacking over the thigh area, i completed the leg treatment with effleurage i then repeated the treatment on the front of her right leg as above.

Moving on to the abdomen i used a gentle effleurage on her abdomen in aclockwise direction follow by circle using fingerpads and knuckling to massage the colon and stretching the external obliques i also used wringing along the waist and finished with double handed effleurage in clockwise direction.

I moved to the arm i used long effleurage around the detoids and back outside of flexors and pronator while supporting her wrist, i used friction around detoids and trapezius also frinction on the elbow joint with my finger pads. And again while supporting her wrist i linked my fingers with her fingers and gived a gentle stretch and finished with effleurage inside of arm and around deltoids, and i repeated the routine on the right arm as above.

I moved to the chest i started using efflurage across th platysma and around the detoids to warm up these muscle, i then used petrissage movement by making a thumb circles across the chest and around the deltoids and up to the back of her neck, i repeated these movement to help release tension and toxin in the muscle i also performed a neck stretch and up along the upper arm and over the detoids muscle.

I moved to the face using draining movement i interlace my finger and drained out the chin, i press around the nose with my finger tips and drained i also drained her forehead with effleurage, i used petrissage by giving the eyebrows a gentle pinched in three sections and taping gently all over her face to drained any toxins.

I finished up the treatment with a scalp massage using my finger pads to stimulate the scalp and improve circulation and also relax the nervous system. I finished the treatment with my hands holding her head to reground myself.

How the client felt after the treatment

003 was very relaxed during and after the treatment she felt uncomfortable when i treated her foot she drift on and off to sleep as i worked on her. 003 said she really enjoyed her treatment and pointed out that she enjed the neck stretching around the detoids most and she said she already looking forward to the next treatment.

after care / Home care

i helped 003 to sit up slowly after the treatment and gave her a glass of water to flush out toxins and advised her to increase her water intake over the next few days i then give her privacy to allow her to get dressed.

I recommended a stretched exercise to her to practice and also to do more physical exercise to help ease the tension on her back.

Reflective practice

I was happy with how the treatment went, i felt confident as i worked on my third client i used different pressures in different area which my client found comfortable with, i spent more time on her back as its my area of concerned i completed the full massage in 65 minutes and my client was and satisfied.

Case study 003

Treatment 2

How the client felt between treatment

003 said that she feels a lot lighter when walking since last week and she does not feel as tight on her back and neck after her first treatment, she said she was a bit tender.

She said although she was hoping for a positive results before her treatment and she was not disappointed.

How the client before the treatment

003 said she was really looking forward to the treatment because she enjoyed her first treatment and has benefited from it too. She was happy for me to continue the same treatment and focus more on her back.

How thetreatment was conducted

I conducted a full body massage on 003 today with a focus on her back to further break down tension. I began with long effleurage with massage oil to warm up the muscles of the back of her left leg. I worked of gastronemius and soleus muscles in the form of pick up and squeezed and wringing on the lower leg covering flexor digitorum this help to release tension. I then moved to her thigh and used effleurage to warm up her thigh muscles i used chinese wringing to worked on biceps femoris after i have worked on these muscles i performed percussion movements including cupping and hacking started on the gluteus maximus, over the thigh and down the lower leg i then retured to using effleurage on the thigh and the whole leg to aid relaxation i covered the leg and moved onto the right leg repeating the routine as above.

I moved up to 003 back and began with effleurage to warm up and relax the back muscles, i noticed the bump on her upper back is still vesible i started working the whole back started with thumb circle from either side of erector spinae and over the trapezius, detoids and rhomboids, i petrissage the neck with one hand at a time lifting and squeezing,i then stretch the scapula pushing out trapezius and around the detoids and down the triceps, i used petrissage again with pick and roll and wringing to help break down any toxins and release tension in the muscle i also performed cupping and hacking around the glutes across the detoids and i finished with double handed effleurage sweeping around the hips making finger 8, these movement will improve circulation.

Once i had completed the full back massage i helped 003 to turn over on her back so i could work the front of her legs,arm, chest and head. I place pillow under her keen and double folded the towel under her head for comfort, i effleurage the front of her left leg and i used petrissage such as wringing on the tibialis anterior and soleus increasing pressure as i worked on these muscles, i also used friction on the shinbone to stimulate the nerves and loosen any tight muscle in that area. I then used effleurage to relax the muscle and help eliminate toxin. I moved up to the thigh using effleurage to warm up the muscle and wringing to help stretch the rectus femoris and sartorius muscles, i used cupping and hacking over the thigh area. I completed the front leg treatment with effleurage and then repeated the treatment on the front of the right leg as above.

I moved to the abdomen i applied medium with effleurage in clockwise direction with my one hand on top of my other hand i gently worked on rectus abdominus and external obliques. I petrissage with my finger tips and knuckling across the colon, i finished up with bouble handed effleurage over the abdomen and around the colon these movement will help her digestive system

I moved to the arm i effleurage the full arm supporting her wrist with my other hand i worked on around the detoids and down the flexors and biceps brachii and then perissage around occipital and deltoids. I the repeated the treatment on the other arm.

I moved to the chest i started by using effleuage across the platysma and around the detoids to warm up these muscles, i then used petissage movement by making thumb circles across the chest and around the deltoids and up to the back of her neck i repeated these movement to help release any tension in the muscle. I gently lift and turn 003 head to the side, i pull over the deltoid and platysma mucles to give the neck a stretch and then turn her head to the other direction and repeating the process on the other side of her neck.

I moved to the face and used friction on the chin followed by draining movement to drain any toxins from the face i then applied pressure on either side of her nose and drain the sinuses. I applied pressure on the eyebrows in 3 section and drained away toxin , i used my fingertips to make a gentle tap all over the face avoiding eyes and month, these movement will help to sooth the tense muscles of the forehead. I finished off the treatment with a scalp massage by using my finger pads in the form of shampooing to stimulate the scalp nd improve circulation and relax nervous system. This should help 003 to feel more relax. I finished the treatment with my hand holding her shoulders to reground myself and shaking off any energy from my hands.

How the felt after treatment

003 said she extremely felt relaxed throughout the whole treatment. She said she felt comfortable with my treatment and movement, shs said she enjoyed the scalp shampooing technique and she also like the choice of my background music.

After care / Home care

I helped 003 sit up slowly after treatment and gave her a glass of water to flush out toxins and as previous week i advised her to increase her water intake expecially for the next 48 hours i showed her some stretch excercise in a booklet that could help break the bumb on her back i also advice her on a good sitting posture as she mostly work on computer.

Reflective practice

I felt very happy with how the treatment went, i felt confident in my massage technique which my client commented on, i was able to tell my client my finding and also went through to make her understand it. I will continue to focus on her back and help her to achieved a positive result i felt satified because my client commented on my room setting and music choice, without looking at the clock i finished the treatment at exactly one hour.

Case study 003

Treatment 3

How the client felt between the treatment

003 said she felt great since her last treatment she said she felt a lot looser on her shoulder and she said she felt stronger and more physically active after the treatment. She said she has started the stretching excercise snd she has not felt much pain since the last treatment.

How the client before th treatment

003 said she was really looking forward to her treatment, she said she had a hard and stressful day at work today but not in pain, she said she is hoping the treatment will make her relax.

How the treatment was conducted

I conducted a full body massage on 003 with complete focus on relaxation. As usual i began with long effleurage to warm up the muscles of the back of her left leg. I worked the gastronemius and soleus muscles in the form of pick and roll and wringing to help release any tension. I then moved to her thigh and use effleurage to warm up the thigh muscles before using petrissage movements on biceps femoris with one hand on either side of the thigh lifting and squeezing, i then performed cupping and hacking starting on the gluteus maximus, over the thigh and down the lower leg i returned to using effleurage on the thigh and the whole leg to help aid relaxation. I covered the leg and moved over to drain her feet. I then repeated the routine on her right leg as above.

I moved up to 003 back and i began with effleurage to warm up and relax her back muscles and relax the nervous system. I noticed that the bump on her back is decreasing. I started working the whole back with effleurage and thumb circle along the erector spinae i increased the pressure without 003 feeling any discomfort and working up to trapezius, i used petrissage movement and wringing to help break down any toxins and release tension in the muscle, i performed cupping and hacking, i finshed up the back massage with effleurage for relaxation.

Once i had completed the back massage i helped 003 to turn over on her back so i could work on her front legs i started with effleurage covering the sole of her foot i used petrissage such a wringing on her tibialis anterior and soleus, i also used friction on the shinbone to stimulate the nerves and loosen any tight muscle in that area. I then used effleurage to relax the muscle. I moved up over the thigh using effleurage to reheat the thigh muscle and wringing to help stretch the rectus femoris and sartorius muscles i performed sweeping technique on the thigh also cupping and hacking over the thigh i completed the treatment with effleurage. I then repeated the treatment on the front of the right leg as above.

I moved to the abdomen, i effleurage the centre of her abdomen and use petrissage around the colon i also gave the abdomen a gentle lift, i finished up with double handed effleurage in clockwise direction to assist with digestion.

Moving to the arm i completed the regular arm routine of effleurage, petrissage only paying attention to the deltoid and trapezius with friction movement while supporting her wrist for relaxation.

I moved to the chest, i started by using effleurage across the platysma and around detoids to warm up the muscle and used petressage movement making a thumb circle aross the chest and around the detoids to release any toxins i pulled over the detoid muscle to give the neck a stretch repeating it three time in each side.

I moved onto the face and used friction on the chin followed by draining movement to drain any toxin from the face, i applied pressure at the sides of the nose and under the zygomatic bone and drain the sinuses and also the forehead. I finished up the treatment with an ear massage followed by scalp massage using my finger pads to shampooing the scalp to stimulate and improve circulation and relax the nervous system which should help 003 to feel more relax.

How the client felt after the treatment

003 said she felt relax during and after treatment and said she found the massage treatment very relaxing and only felt a little bit of discomfort of gastronmius during treatment.

003 said she was surprised she enjoyed the foot massage because she never let anyone touched her feet before. She said she more relax this week.

After care / home care

I help 003 to sit up after the treatment and gave her a glass of water to flush out toxins i advise her to take more water and eat more vegetable to balance her diet and i encourage her to continue her stretching excercises before and after work.

Reflective practice

I was happy with how this treatment went, my towel management was good and 003 was warm throughout the treatment every needed equipment was at my reached and my posture has improved and i am more relaxed

Case study 003

Treatment 4

How the client between the treatment

003 said she felt great and has gegining to feel the benefit impart of the massage treatment and also said she is trying to drink more water in addition to her herbal tea, she has less pain on her back since her last treatment.

How the client felt before the treatment

003 said she was really looking forward to this treatment and said she has been so exited for this week treatment because of the relaxing benefit she noticed from the last treatment.

How the treatment was conducted

I conducted the full body massage on 003 today starting from the legs. The purpose of this treatment is to relax and loosen the muscles of her back. I began with long effleurage with massage oil to warm up the muscles of the back of her left leg. I study the muscle and i feel the tightness in her gastronemius and soleus muscles on her lower leg and tightness on her biceps femoris muscles on her thigh, i worked on the gastronemius and soleus muscles in the form of pick and roll and wringing to release any tension and toxins. I moved to the thigh and used effleuragen to warm up her thigh mucles before using petrissage movements on the biceps femoris, after the petrissage over the thigh muscle i then performed cupping and hacking starting on the gluteus maxius, over the thigh and down the lower leg, i then used effleurage on the whole leg to aid relaxation. I covered up the leg and moved to the foot and drain the foot and i then repeated the treatment on her right leg as above.

I moved to the back, i began again with effleurage, i was more curious this week on her back but i found the bump on 003 back was visibly decreased compared to last treatment and the tighten area has loosen up, i started working on her erector spinae and around trapezius and detoids using thumb circle increasing the pressure as i progressed to break down the bump and ease tension. I used petrissage movement again and wringing to help break down toxins and release tension in the muscle, these movement will also improve circulation. I performed cupping and hacking across the hip including the glutes i then finished with double handed effleurage on the detoids and across the hip.

After i had completed the back massage i helped 003 to turn over onto her back so i could work the front of her legs, i placed a pillow under her knees as i worked the front of her left leg i used effleurage and wringing on the tibialis anterior and soleus, i then stimulate the popliteal i also used effleurage to relax the lower leg muscle. I moved over the thigh using effleurage to reheat the muscle and wringing to help stretch the rectus femoris and sartorius muscles. I used cupping and hacking over the thigh area to improve circulation and muscle tone. I completed the leg treatment with effleurage, i then repeated the treatment on the front of the right leg as above.

I moved to abdomen, i applied medium with effleurage in clockwise direction follow by petrissage around colon. I did not pay much attention on her abdomen on this treatment.

I moved to the arms, i ensured to tucked the towel under her arm, i held her wrist for support as i effleurage the arm, i then used wringing technique on the deltoids and biceps follow by friction using thumb circle along carpels, i effleurage the arm again around the detoid and back down while still supporting the wrist. I then repeated this routine on her right arm.

Moving to the chest, i began using effleurage across platysma and around detoids to warm up the muscles, i the began petrissage movement making a thumb circle aross the chest and around detoid and up to the back of the neck. I also gave both side of her neck a gentle stretch to release any tension in the muscle.

I moved to the face i used draining movements to drain any toxins from the face ,i used effleurage to stretch the forehead and drain out on both sides. I used my fingertips to make a gentle tap all over the face avoiding eyes and mouth.

I moved to the head i used petrissage movement with finger pads to stimulate the scalp and to improve circulation and relax the nervous system to help 003 to feel more relax. I finished the treatment with my hand holding her shoulders to reground myself and shaking off energy from my hand.

How the client felt after the treatment

003 was extremely relaxed throughout the treatment, she commented on my techniques and pressure and said she really enjoyed it and she said she was not as tender on her back as the previous treatment.

After care / home care

After the treatment i helped 003 to sit up and i gave her a glass of water to flush out toxins and i encourage her to continue taking more water and to continue with the stretching excercises morning and evening to prolong the effect of the treatment.

Reflective practice

I was very happy with how this treatment went. i am happy with my progress and I was able to practice in professional manner, i felt my posture was good throughout the treatment. I was pleased to see that 003 was asleep during the back treatment i had to wake her up to turn her over.

Case study 003

Treatment 5

How the client felt between the treatment

003 said she felt great since her last treatment. She said she had a work stress because of been trasfered to a different office, 003 said she had benefited from the stretching exercises she has been sleeping much better and woking up stronger.

How the client felt before the treatment

003 said she was looking forward to her treatment she said she felt relax all week and that she is not feeling pain on her back at this moment. She said she will like to continue massage treatment offen because of its benefit.

How the treatment was conducted

I conducted a full bady massage on 003 today starting from the back of her legs, we agreed for me to focus on relaxation as well as loosen the muscles of her back, i began with effleurage and massage oil to warm up the muscles of the back of her left leg. I worked on gastronemius and soleus muscles in the form of pick and roll with my both hands and wringing on her lower leg to help release tension, i did not feel any tightness on her gastronemius today. I moved up to the thigh and used effleurage to warm up the thigh muscles before i started petrissage movement with one hand on either side of the thigh to stimulate biceps femoris and semitendinosus muscles i asked if the pressure is ok as her thigh is looser this week, i performed cupping and hacking along the gluteus maximus, over the thigh and down the lower leg. I then used effleurage on the thigh and the whole leg to help aid relaxation. I covered up the leg and then moved onto the right leg repeating the routine as above.

I moved up to 003 back and i began with long effleurage to warm up and relax the back muscles i noticed that the bump on her back had disapeared and her back muscles was looser than previous weeks, i started working the back with thumb circle along the erector spinae i then pick and roll the levator scapuli and i also worked over the trapezius and rhomboids muscles to ease tension and used petrissage movement and wringing on detoid to break down any toxins and released tension, i performed vibrations along the erector spinae and also cupping and hacking around glutes avoiding the spine, i finisehd up with double handed effleurage around the detoids and down the hip making a figure 8.

After the back massage i help 003 turn over onto her back so i could work the front of her legs, abdomen, arms chest and head. I started with effleurage on the front of her left leg, i used friction on her chinbone to stimulate the nerves, i used petrissage such as wringing to work on her tibialis anterior and soleus i then used effleurage to relax the muscles. I moved to the thigh using effleurage to reheat the muscle and wringing with one hand on either side of the thigh lifting and squeezing to help stretch the rectus femoris and sartorius muscles, i performed cupping and hacking over the thigh area i completed the leg treatment with effleurage. I then repeated the treatment on the front of her right leg.

I moved to the abdomen using effleurage, petrissage and friction routine along the colon, giving a gentle lift on the abdomen to help digestion system.

I moved to the arms i used effleurage, petrissage and friction movement to work around the detoid and flexors while supporting the client wrist.

I moved to the chest i began with effleurage across the platysma and around the detoids to warm up these muscles. I then used petrissage movements by making a thumb circles aross the chest and around the detoids and up to the back of her neck to release tention. I then gently lifted and turned 003 head on the side and pulled over the detoid and platysma to give the neck a good stretch and i turned 003 head on the other direction and repeated the stretching toutine.

Moving onto the face i used friction on her face following draining movements to drain any toxins from the face, i applied pressure on the sides of the nose, and petrissage the eyebrow with a gentle pinch in three sections and i tap all over the face with my fingertips to drained any toxin away.

Moving to the head massage, i used the pads of my fingers in the form of shampooing to stimulate the scalp and improve circulation and relax the nervous system this routine will help 003 aid relaxation. I finished the treatment with my hand holding her shoulder to reground myself and shaking off any energy from my hand.

How the client felt after the treatment

003 said she was relax throughout the treatment she said she felt comfortable and destress, she said she enjoyed the head shampooing routine most and she said she did not feel any tender on her body this week as previous weeks.

After care / home care

I help 003 sit up slowly after the treatment and gave her a glass of water to flush out toxins and advised her to keep up her extra water intake, i left the room to allowed her dressed up in private. I advised 003 to continue her stretching exercise in the morning and evening and to go for a walk as the weather improve.

Reflective practice

I was happy with the way the treatment went, i was also happy that i had completed 003 fifth treatment with positive result, i felt that my posture was good throughout the treatment i comleted the treatment exactly one hour without looking at the clock.

Overall Conclusion

I was nervous about carring out treatment on 003 on her first visit but i became more confident on her subsequent treatment and we build a relationship, after each treatment i was able to explained my finding and how i worked on them i felt accomplished after each treatment.

003 was a great client for my case study because each week we focus on different area mostly her back, shoulders and relaxtion and i am glad that she benefited from the treatment she commented that she had a very good experienced with me from the first treatment to the last treatment i am also happy that she is taking my home care advised into practice which will be very beneficiary to her wellbeing after the treatment.

CONSULTATION FORM

CONSULTATION FORM.pdf